Subject: Warehouse Consolidation - Las Vegas Closure

To: All Neapco Drivelines Aftermarket Group Customers

To our valued customers,

After review and careful analysis of our current operating structure, we have made the decision to consolidate our Las Vegas distribution center. We have determined we could provide the most effective and efficient levels of customer service by consolidating inventories and operations to serve you from our other established Neapco locations.

Please note, the last day for order shipment from the Las Vegas warehouse will be 12/22/2023.

No action is necessary from you. Our logistics team is in the process of realigning your information to our remaining two distribution centers located in Beatrice, NE and Greer, SC.

Over the last several years the needs of our customers have changed considerably. Part of maximizing our potential is to proactively monitor these changes and develop solutions to ensure you experience the highest level of service and operational excellence. Notably, we believe this action will allow for improved order fulfillment and allow us to focus on further improving delivery times.

A strategic team has been assembled and is developing the plan to help ensure a smooth transition and close out. We will be fully transparent during this transition and will provide updates as needed. We also ask that you, our valued customer, kindly advise us of any issues that you experience so we can address them immediately.

As always, we do appreciate your business, and your patience during this transitional period.

Regards,
