Subject: 108" Tubing Shipment Policy Update

To: All Neapco Drivelines Aftermarket Group Customers

We continue to see exorbitant surcharges in parcel shipping markets to handle 108" driveline tubes. Because the 108" length is considered an "Oversized" shipment, parcel carriers (FedEx and UPS) are charging up to $920.00 per packaged tube. The "Oversized" nature also increases the fuel surcharge for these shipments.

Effective immediately, Neapco will no longer ship 108" tubes on parcel carriers. (FedEx, UPS)

All 108" tubing will ship only on LTL (Motor Freight).

This new policy only applies to 108" lengths. Neapco will continue to ship all other shorter lengths of our high-quality tubing on parcel carriers.

We apologize for the inconvenience this may cause, however, the current market conditions dictate we take action.

We appreciate your continued support of Neapco Products. If you have further questions, please contact your Neapco representative.
